

NEWSLETTER

Identity Theft 911[®]

VOLUME 5
ISSUE 5
MAY 2008

AMERICA'S LEADING IDENTITY MANAGEMENT AND EDUCATION SOURCE

THIS MONTH'S TOPIC...

With Identity Theft, Texas Takes the Bull by the Horns... but officials still face a colossal challenge

Notes from our Chairman, Adam K. Levin

Texas Attorney General Gregory Abbott has gotten a good deal of press these days for his crusade against identity theft and careless data handling. He's sent a clear message to would-be identity thieves, and organizations that handle sensitive data, in no uncertain terms: Don't Mess with Texas. Specifically, don't mess with Texans' identities—don't even think about it.

Though well armed, state officials still face a thorny battle against credit and illegal document fraud, as well as businesses that continue to ignore good data security practices. This month, we take an in-depth look at identity theft in Texas. Using the federal government's best data in this white paper, we aim to promote awareness of the challenges in Texas—and its no-nonsense solutions—in hopes of educating the public and inspiring all (government leaders especially included) to join the good fight.

For a complete newsletter archive, visit: www.identitytheft911.org/newsletters

To learn about the latest scams on identity theft, visit: www.identitytheft911.org

Comments, questions? Contact us: newsletter@identitytheft911.com

Identity Theft 911[®]

WHITE PAPER
MAY 2008

CLICK PAGE TO VIEW WHITE PAPER

IDENTITY THEFT IN TEXAS

WHITE PAPER
MAY 2008

BY IDENTITY THEFT 911, LLC